Teachers To Attend Annual General Meeting Of ATA

CALGARY.—Six hundred teachers from 69 ATA locals in Alberta are expected to attend the annual general meeting of the Alberta Teachers' Association in Calgary April 14-15-16.

The teachers at the meeting will serve as official delegates representing their fellow teachers resident in the locals concerned. During the past several weeks teachers have been meeting in sub-locals and locals selecting their delegates and advising them on procedure in connection with the various resolutions to be brought down at the three-day meeting.

The seventy-three resolutions will be presented in four sections: resolutions on policy; resolutions passed previously in connection with one subject to review; resolutions presented by AT locals; and those presented by the provincial executive.

Miss Marian Gimby, ATA president, who was recently declared elected by acclamation for another year, will be general chairman, and Eric C. Ansley, General Secretary-Treasurer, is convention secretary.

Meeting will be held at the Palliser Hotel with registration open at nine o'clock Easter Monday.

Report of Joint Meeting Sturgeon School Division and Municipal Council

Special meeting of Council of M.D. Sturgeon No. 90 and the Sturgeon School Board was held in the Municipal Office in Edmonton on Thursday, March 27, 1952 at 1:30 p.m.

All councillors of M.D. Sturgeon were present together with five members of the Sturgeon School Board together with the secretary, Mr. E. Meaden and school superintendent, Mr. Scott.

The matter under discussion was the School Budget which showed school requisition amounting to $369,728, an increase over 1951 of $64,604 or a mill rate of 31.9631. Under the School Act if the school requisition exceeds 20 per cent of the total sum requisitioned by the School Division, contributing authority may apply to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners for an examination of the estimates of the School Division. The 1952 school requisition is 34.38 per cent over the previous year.

The School Budget submitted by the School Board for consideration of the Council, was gone into in detail.

Administration expenses showed a decrease of $640 whilst under instruction which covers teachers' salaries, correspondence courses, library books, supplies and equipment, showed an increase of $15,550. This was accounted for mostly by teachers' salaries. Plant operation and maintenance showed a decrease of $7,600, but transportation and maintenance of pupils showed an increase of $18,300 and land, buildings, etc., an increase of $10,000. Detachments, direct and bank loans amounting to $59,223 showed an increase of $42,900, while other expenses and accounts payable showed an increase of $14,200.

The Council was of the opinion that purchase of office building at Morinville for the sum of $10,000, together with other expenses for fixing the office suitable for occupation, was not an essential expense, in view of the fact that no provision had been for acquiring such a building in their 1951 budget and the extra expense to be paid to the secretary for transportation from his city home to Morinville would have been avoided. It was also the thought of the Council that there should be no necessity for the School Division to borrow money from the bank when the Taxing Authority pay the quarterly school payments promptly and in our case often give the School Division advances on their requisitions. The School Board replied to the effect that unfortunately in budgeting they had made no provision for a surplus and invariably they had a deficit in their budgets hence they had sometimes to borrow from the bank.

It was also pointed out to the School Board that the school requisition paid by M. D. Sturgeon in 1951 was $129,590.64 and the municipal levy against this was $132,990.97, or a deficit of $7,199.65, but to offset this deficit there was an amount of $10,317 conditional grant from the Provincial Government, so that actually there was a surplus of $2,117.35 on the levy. The municipality reduced the school taxes 4 mills to earn this grant for the school. However the 1951 Sturgeon School collections were $85,911.20, the discounts $4,948.55, making a total collection on the 1951 levy of $90,900.55. To this must be added $10,317 conditional grant from the Government, making a total collection of 1951 taxes and grant of $101,228.55, or a difference of $31,164.44 to make up to equal the requisition payment. These figures cover current revenue only, but there were some school arrears collected amounting to $20,265.66, so then the difference to be made up out of Municipal funds was $10,894.78. To offset the amount due out of municipalities funds we paid out of municipalities funds we have uncollected school taxes amounting to $37,129.33.

The question was asked as to whether the present budget would be over or under or whether the School Board would strictly confine their expenditures in accordance with the budget, as it seemed apparent the School Board had

HIGHLIGHTS OF MORINVILLE F.U.A. APRIL MEETING

By OSCAR HITTINGER

MORINVILLE.—The Morinville F.U.A. held their regular meeting on the first Tuesday of the month as usual. This local voted $50.00 to a fund for a Leadership Course which is being planned by the F.W.U.A. for farm men, women and juniors.

The 1950-51 report of the Canadian Wheat Board was on hand and it was noticed that storage on oats paid to elevators and terminals was slightly under three cents per bushel. It appears that within three months from the time the elevators received grain the Canadian Wheat Board had disposed of it. Owing to a heavy agenda, the report was tabled for the present.

It was announced that Miss Helen Smith of Bittern Lake will be the candidate competing in the Calgary Stampede Queen Contest for the benefit of Crippled Children and the Junior F.U.A. Miss Smith was chosen from a list of 30 applicants, all of whom were very good. Tickets will be sold by every local in Alberta, and the draw will be made in Calgary during Stampede Week this summer. The lucky ticket holder will get a new 1952 car.

Automobile insurance at cost under a provincial plan, was approved unanimously. Investigation had been made by the Head Office of the F.U.A. at the request of locals, which shows the cost of full coverage on a 1951 Chevrolet, with Public Liability of $25,000 to $50,000, Property Damage of $5,000, Fire and Theft, Collision with $25 deductible, Passenger Hazard and extra coverage would be $92.26 in Alberta (rough), and the same coverage in Saskatchewan, which has a Government rate, is $28.50. According to the report the figure given in Alberta is the rate for rural cars and only for drivers over 25 years old. City rates and rates for drivers under 25 years are much higher.

The difference in cost arises from the fact that compulsory insurance can be written for less than 1%. Voluntary car insurance costs 15% to 25% to write through commission to agents, etc. Also 100% coverage spreads the risk while under voluntary insurance the high risk motorists insure and others stay out.

The speaker of the evening, Mr. Harper, vice-president of the Canadian Co-operative Implements Limited, was introduced to the meeting by M. F. Hittinger, delegate of C.C.I.L. for this area. He reported that there is plenty of money made in the manufacturing of machinery, as they found out at the plant in Winnipeg, where the harrower, discer and other items are made and sold at competitive prices.

Through the deal with Cockshutt, C.C.I.L. purchases certain types of machines from their plants and therefore, know that 75% of the cost of machinery lies in distribution. To put it plainly, supposing a certain type of tractor from any machine company sells at $2000, the cost of distribution on that tractor is $1000. Distribution, of course includes salesmanship, freight, advertising, etc. Mr. Harper said, and every shareholder knows, and there are 53,600 of them, that the dividend paid by C.C.I.L. was never lower than 15% of sales. He also spoke of the service rendered to machines on the farms with the system they have at present.

The manager of the Co-op Store, Mr. Leon Charron, is the agent for C.C.I.L. implements and can give any information that is desired.

Farmers' Holiday, the second Friday of June, will be celebrated again this year in conjunction with the St. Albert Local. A committee was set up to make preliminary preparations. This committee will attend the regular St. Albert F.U.A. meeting, April 8, to formulate plans. The members chosen on this committee are Mr. Saffin, Mr. Schafer, Mrs. Schafer, Mrs. Saffin, Mrs. R. De Tonnancour, Mrs. Herb Saunders, Mrs. M. A. Lionelle, Mrs. Mat. Hittinger, Mrs. Laura Gibeau. The president, Herb Saunders, is a member of the committee ex-officio.

The drug bill for the National Health Service in the United Kingdom for this year will be $132,000,000. A real national headache.

On The Down Trend

Prices of most farm products have been on the down trend since the beginning of the year.

The outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Saskatchewan "played hob" with meat prices.

The prices of eggs and other poultry have dropped.

The price of dairy products may go down because of U.S. embargo against imports from Canada.

Even the price of wheat has gone down, due to the rise in the value of the Canadian dollar.

All this means that Canadian farmers are taking substantial wage cuts at the present time.

All Work - No Pay

Frankly, we feel it's just about time that Ottawa started contributing to the payroll of our staff, particularly the office end of it.

As a matter of fact, the amount of work done for the government, and the time involved, makes us feel that we're already on the government's payroll; it's simply someone has merely forgotten to send us the weekly cheque.

Many, many hours are spent on behalf of the government each month, and not only do we not get paid for it, it invariably comes out that we have to pay them more.

There's the matter of sales tax, for example. Nearly every bit of printing done requires sales tax. We figure it out, record it, take the dirty looks as a result of someone being asked to pay it, and use up our cheques and our stamps, and letterhead, to send the money in to Ottawa. And to crown it all, we have to pay for a license to act as Ottawa's collecting agency.

Then there's the matter of unemployment insurance and the hours of figuring out stamp-licking and what-not that goes into that. No thanks, mind you, or a slight tip for our efforts. Merely a blast if the thing isn't done correctly. And, of course, there's income tax, and innumerable reports required now and then.

Our staff is probably doing all this work because the paid civil servants are now working on a 35-hour week, or is it 30? We'd like that, too, but before we qualify for that pension that begins for everyone at 70 - if we make it.

Why Not, Ladies?

It is some thirty-five years since Canadian women first voted in a federal election. During the years that the ladies fought for the franchise their leaders promised great things for the nation if the women received the right to vote. That promise, somehow, has not been fulfilled.

Women have not taken the part in local, provincial and federal affairs that they might have. In this country there are several million women... few have ever served on municipal councils, on school boards, in the legislature or in parliament. Why?

We think that women should get into public life for they have much good common sense, much organizational ability, much executive ability that the country needs.

Why not women on our school boards and our town and rural councils? There are many ladies in our community who would be real assets to any board or council.

We wonder why the ladies of the nation have not been more active in public life. In their own organizations they do a wonderful job; why should they not focus their abilities on larger spheres of action?

Women are no longer tied to their homes, burdened with housekeeping toil—modern science and invention has released them from that. They have taken their place in business, in industry, in the professions, but to only a minor degree in public life.

The welfare of Canada demands the interest and active participation of women in local and national affairs. How about it, ladies?

A Place For Flax

Farmers are advised by A. M. Wilson, field crops commissioner, Alberta department of agriculture, not to overlook the advantages of flax as a crop during the coming season. Although flax is not a widely grown crop in Alberta, those who are accustomed to its production have found it profitable. No quotas have been established for flax, and it is a crop that is readily converted into cash.

Seeding midway through the normal period of planting wheat is recommended for flax. Later seedings result in late maturity and difficulty is encountered in harvesting a crop of flax that is not well ripened, particularly when combine methods are employed. The Redwing variety is recommended for central and northern areas of the province. In the south, Dakota and Royal may give greater yields. Royal branches readily, however, and even though the main part of the plant may be entirely mature, unripened stems may create harvesting problems. In spite of these minor difficulties, flax is worth growing and some thought might well be given to its production when considering the cropping program this year.

Easter In A World Of Sin

The central story of the Christian world is being reviewed for us these days. It is the story of Easter—the foundation upon which the Christian gospel is based.

Easter, first of all, is the story of the initial, apparent triumph of evil. Powerful men motivated by evil designs—strange bedfellows, many of them—combined to send Christ to the Cross. It looked like the finish of His small team of faithful men, and for the new ideas they were bringing to the world.

Today some groups would tell us that the world is getting better day by day, closing their eyes in ostrich fashion to the facts of a hellish war in Korea and a tormenting war of nerves existing today everywhere else.

If the gospel of Jesus Christ did not triumph over the material world in His day, it has not won the battle to do so today. In fact, Jesus never claimed He was going to reform the world, and today there are plenty of men in high places who would crucify Him again if they had the opportunity.

The Christian Bible says that "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." For the individual soul He gave His life's blood on Calvary's Cross. When wicked hands had put Him to death, they thought they had had the victory. They didn't realize that His kingdom was to be a spiritual kingdom, and not an earthly empire. These men didn't know His power of Resurrection. Hence, the man who had seemed the greatest failure of His day became the greatest success through all ages.

But, from the first to last, the Gospel of Jesus Christ makes its appeal to the individual. He said He did not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance. In this world of sin, the sinner who sees the Saviour crucified for him, and believes in the Christian Gospel to save him from his lost condition as a sinner, has secured for himself the Resurrection.

Note and Comment

Despite all the talk of new and fantastic weapons, Canadian soldiers are still squatting in the mud with rifles, killing and getting killed in the same old fashion.

Thinking leads a man to knowledge. He may see and hear, and read and learn what ever he pleases, and as much as he pleases; he will never know anything of it, except as he has thought it over... By thinking, he has made it the property of his own mind. —Johann Pestalozzi.

SURFACE RIGHTS AND THE FARMER

By HENRY YOUNG

President, Farmers' Union of Alberta

The question of what compensation the farmer who holds no mineral rights should get from oil companies has been smoldering since 1947. There are some signs now that it may erupt into flame.

Following the discovery of the Leduc Oil Field, the policy of the Oil Companies was to give the farmer practically nothing for land used in investigating and caused by drilling and all that goes with it. The Oil Companies occupied the area and acted much like the conquering army of a foreign power, with little heed for such rights as farmers still possessed.

This naturally led to fierce resentment and groups were formed in the areas affected to demand a better deal for surface owners. Unfortunately the various local organizations which sprang up did not agree upon a unified policy. There were some demands for a share of the royalties for all surface owners. However one group asked for one per cent while another wanted three per cent and so forth. Lack of agreement prevented progress on this line.

Lately the committee of the Leduc field contacted the Farmers' Union and drew up a program which the Union Executive helped them to present to the Provincial Government. Under this program adequate compensation was the main demand. There was also an alternative under which a farmer could take cash settlement for his whole quarter section if he wished. These two points are still the basis of the Farmers' Union demand on this question. Following this pressure brought upon the Government by the Union, the Board of Arbitration which had been set up by the Provincial Government began to adopt a much more liberal policy toward the farmer, and awards were made which went some distance towards meeting their demands. However the request for a cash settlement as an alternative has never been considered.

For the last two years the F.U.A. has urged this policy upon the Government. We have been met with the argument that the Board of Arbitration was giving the farmers all that was coming to them and that the farmers were satisfied with the present setup. Since the majority of Alberta farmers do not belong to any organization the Government naturally infers this.

Now as the difficulties are being attended people are beginning to realize the fabulous profits which are accruing to oil companies from each good well. Some estimators have placed this as high as two million dollars per well in a good field. Naturally the demand for a better deal for surface owners is showing signs of revival.

Now it has just reached us that the organization of a Surface Rights Association in the Falun area. Others may follow. If they do it will be hoped that the time has finally come when the farmers will get together and work out a bill of demands on which they will all stand and which will suit farmers generally. So far there has been no suggestion of anything different from what is embodied in our program. However what is needed is some clear definition of what "Adequate Compensation" is.

The Farmers' Union of Alberta is certainly prepared to cooperate to the full with surface rights groups to obtain a better deal for farmers. At the same time it is well to point out that for the purpose of getting action from the Government what is needed is an organization representing a majority of farmers of Alberta. This can be achieved through strengthening the unions and all farmers interested in a better deal on surface rights should get into the union even if they also belong to a Surface Rights Group. Since only the oil development areas are directly concerned with this particular question, they will need the backing of a province-wide organization to get results. The situation calls for close co-operation in the interests of all concerned.

Voice of the People

BOOZE AND THE PRINTER

Out in Missouri a farmer gave a printing office an order for sale bills. The job was promised for June 20th. The date being the last day before the prolonged drought started.

The printer decided to take a few drinks. He took several. Then he happened to remember the bills that were promised for delivery that day and staggered to the office to get out the job.

The farmer called for the bills, paid for them, and took them home. Next day he started to put them up, and this is what he read when he came to the list of articles for sale:

Twenty-five cows broke to work; 41 head of cultivators coming in soon; 10 head of shovelling blades with scoops at side; 8 piano mowers; 120 rods canvas belting, better than new; De Laval cow with ice cream attachment; McCormick binder in foal; Poland chine bobbed due to farrow in April; 14 head of chickens with grass seed attachments, in good working order; 2 J. I. Case riding helpers, good as new; spraying outfit, can be ridden by children; 15 Billy goats, 70 bushels capacity with spraying nozzle and other attachments. Many other articles too numerous to mention, which I expect to get at night between now and date of sale.

FREEDOM FOR HEALTH

Re. letter of E. Dixon, I not only heard Mr. Ross's broadcast but was inspired that ill-conceived masterpiece by writing a man's viewpoint and sending it to him. In my fight against certain cooking utensils I am not offering anything for sale, not even folders. I am just so happy that we can improve our health that I want to tell everybody about it.

We have small groups of experimenters from coast to coast and the results of their experiments will spread by the grapevine telegraph, in spite of suppression by the press.

Our Ontario group is headed by a man who killed his cat with some soup he cooked and left standing in aluminum for two or three days.

ANY ADVICE, GENTS?

I have always written faithfully to my boy friend in the service. But he's about to go overseas, and the thought of not seeing him, plus the talk of all the pretty girls on the other side, has me worried. Maybe some of the fellows can give me the real lowdown on what's with those girls. I shall I wear my hair out worrying, or is this fear just silly?

BEWILDERED GAIL

HAPPY WITH ERNIE

I don't know what to think of any true Albertan who votes any other way but Social Credit. I'll stick my ballot in for S.C. any day—whether the wealthy oil companies pay into the party funds or not. Ernest Manning is the best Premier this, or any other province, ever had, bar none.

$400,000*

Albertans are unique. With heart, soul and generosity they have given the greatest gift possible to their crippled children, the new and ultra-modern Alberta Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital, the only hospital of its type in Canada. The people of Alberta have realized, throughout the years, that it is a privilege to aid the crippled child.

The Alberta Red Cross Crippled Children's Hospital, YOUR hospital, is a complete unit designed for children suffering from orthopedic disabilities. It has surgeries, laboratories, an X-ray department, education facilities, a physiotherapy unit and an extensive out-patient's clinic, all designed for centralized treatment. The crippled child who enters your hospital is given every advantage. He gets the finest in medical care; he is educated through Grade XII. Child psychologists work with the patients, for the development of the child's personality is just as important as the treatment of his disability.

The people of Alberta can be justly proud of their new Red Cross hospital with its magnificent equipment and facilities. The children who live here, children whose parents cannot afford prolonged orthopedic treatment, come not only from Alberta but from the Peace River country of B.C. and the Northwest Territories.

Every child who enters your hospital is welcomed with love and understanding with each patient treated as an individual. The aim in view of the medical staff that gives its time without charge; of the nursing staff that mothers each child; is that the patient must be given every advantage to take his normal place in the world. You can help by giving generously to the Red Cross campaign for funds. To those with a limited future, give a future unlimited.

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa—My husband and I quarrel continually and as we have only one child, both of us try to get him on our side. He has become very nervous and I wonder if our behavior has had anything to do with it. Do you think it would be better for us to separate? You are always writing that a child needs both his father and mother but what do you think of this situation?

PUZZLED WIFE.

Answer:

A child does need both his father and mother and the greatest thing they can give him is a deep sense of security which comes from a harmonious home. If he has the feeling that no matter what happens elsewhere his home is a fortress into which he can always come and find sympathy, understanding and safety, he will be possessed of something invaluable.

It is impossible for him to have this feeling if his home is one of continual friction and bickering. He never knows what to expect from day to day and his sense of security is lost.

But you are doing a terrible thing to your child when you bring him into your quarrel and try to make him choose between the two people he loves most in the world. It is a wonder that he is not a nervous wreck by now.

The trouble with you and your husband is that you are just plain selfish. You put yourselves first and your child last. You are so much more concerned with your own selves than you are about what is happening to him. Just so that you can work off that bad mood, have the last word or make some mean come-back you do so regardless of the consequences.

Why don't you and your husband learn to control yourselves? We can't help it if some people irritate us but we can refrain from having a row. It takes two people to have a quarrel you know. Both of you should talk this matter over. If your disagreements come from some important issue, you should have an understanding about it and settle it once for all. If they come from trivial matters, make a bargain never to bicker about them before your child and never belittle each other to that child. If you don't think your husband is such a fine character, let your child find it out for himself, but do everything in your power to let him think he is all right. It is better for him that way.

If you will stop being critical of each other and try to find some things to praise and admire in each other, you may discover that you are still in love with each other.

Sincerely,
LOUISA.

Advertiser Runs Every Week For 46 Years

Twenty-three years ago The Colorado Editor ran a story about the ideal advertiser who had run advertising every week since 1905 in the Steamboat Springs (Colo.) Steamboat Pilot, always paid in advance, always had copy in well ahead of time and regularly budgeted 1 per cent of gross sales to advertising.

The advertiser was F. M. Light & Son, Clothiers.

A recent check-up with Maurice Leckenby, publisher of the Pilot, shows that the record has continued unbroken—the store still has not missed an issue since 1905.

Calling the clothier's advertising "the kind that all newspapermen dream about but few ever find," Mr. Leckenby wrote:

"The store had a modest beginning in 1905 when Steamboat Springs was a town of a few hundred population and the country was in its pioneer stages without a railroad and very few roads. F. M. Light came to Steamboat for his health from Ohio, where he had been a school teacher. His small clothing store had a perilous time for a few years but Mr. Light stuck with his advertising and was constantly telling northwestern Colorado about the advantages of trading at his store.

"Today it is a store that is known far beyond the borders of Steamboat Springs and Routt county. Light keeps the post office busy sending Levis, Stetsons, saddles, cowboy equipment, Western togs as well as standard men's wear to several states. Using his Pilot advertising to get a foothold at home, Mr. Light and his sons constantly kept expanding and letting more and more people know about Light's, a truly Western store.

"It is a small store in a small town in Colorado, but it has a gross income that would make many city stores envious. The Light sons do not tell their business, but it is estimated the store takes in a quarter of a million dollars a year.

"It is a successful business because advertising has been given its proper place and coupled with fair dealing on a strictly cash basis and a thorough knowledge of the wear that a Western man wants, it has and will continue to grow."

Kerry Wood, Alberta Author, Releases New Book On Preservation Of Wild Life

Every community should set aside a beauty spot as a wildlife preserve, according to Kerry Wood of Red Deer. This Alberta naturalist makes a strong plea for the idea in a new nature book which he has just published.

In the pages of "The Sanctuary," you will read about the history of an attractive strip of wilderness, preserved in all its natural beauty by a pioneer farmer since homestead days of 1885 until finally given government protection today as a bird and animal sanctuary. The book contains a fascinating account of Indian lore, besides giving first hand observations of plant and animal and insect life encountered while visiting the refuge, the whole story presented in an entertaining and sometimes hilarious human-interest style of writing that will appeal to young and old alike. But in the final chapter, Mr. Wood sums up his basic theme: that every city, town, or rural district of Western Canada should preserve in sanctuary form one or more of its finest beauty spots before it is too late.

Here's what Mr. W. B. Dawe, Assistant Principal of the well known Composite High School of Red Deer, writes about the new book:

The eager run-of-youth, the firm tread of manhood, the dignified gait of middle life, and the slow steps of age have all known The Sanctuary paths. In this unspoiled bit of wilderness one meets a blind doe, a friendly Indian, and a furtive mink. There is a description of the development of a refuge and, unconsciously a revealing account of a boy's growth from callow youth to mature manhood. The subtle influence of a contact with nature moulds the lad's character and even his habits of thought.

Graphic and accurate descriptions of little-known aspects of nature, (for example, the marsh hawk transferring food in mid-air, make even the city dweller realize the world of wonders awaiting

250,000 Canadians Get Free Blood Transfusions

TORONTO—More than a quarter of a million Canadians have received free blood or plasma transfusions through the Canadian Red Cross free national Blood Transfusion Service, Vernon C. Hale, national chairman of the Blood Donor committee, announced on the eve of the Society's annual national appeal for $5,222,000.

"In cold dollars and cents our service has saved Canadians, in the former cost of medical care alone, a sum far greater than the total amount we are campaigning for to cover all Red Cross services this year," the chairman declared. "But it is in the contribution to suffering humanity and in the saving of human lives that our real progress can be measured."

A total of 282,136 patients in Canada have received free transfusions since the start of the service in 1947, and a total of 648,790 bottles have been donated by the public in the same period.

In 1951, when the service had grown to include eight provinces, although only portions of Ontario and Quebec, 110,136 patients received transfusions and 263,000 bottles of blood were collected. With the opening of a depot in Saskatchewan this year, the service will operate in all provinces except Newfoundland.

In addition to the civilian service, the government has made Red Cross the sole agency for the procurement of blood and blood products, including plasma, for the fighting men of Canada at home and abroad. More than 6,000 bottles of plasma have already been delivered to the Department of National Defence under this agreement.

Love Conquers All

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—Mrs. Della Skinner, 71-year-old widow who advertised for a job as housekeeper, found a husband, John T. Hiller, widower, who is still a travelling salesman at 80, hired her. She had worked for him only five days when he proposed marriage. The wedding followed within a few days. Hiller intends to employ a maid for his bride.

ing so near at hand. The plea for conservation takes on a new meaning after one reads Kerry Wood's book.

The author obtains his title from a 230-acre preserve for wildlife, but I think he has a deeper meaning: Save a piece of "unimproved" wilderness not only as a haven for birds and animals, but also as a sanctuary for man, where for at least a brief time he can forget the battering and bewildering forces of the modern world, and in spirit come closer to old Earth, the great mother of us all.

"The Sanctuary" is amusingly illustrated with cartoon-like drawings which will delight the younger readers. You may get autographed copies direct from the author, Kerry Wood of Red Deer, Alta. The book totals 106 pages, 28 illustrations, and is priced at $1.50 post-paid.

Beautiful Baby

THE DARLING of the Chalifoux household, in Morinville, is seven-months-old Pauline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chalifoux.

An Ancient Disease

Foot and mouth disease (a virus named Aphtha Epizootica) a virulent contagious and apparently incurable malady of animals, has for the first time in history struck in Canada. This disease was known to the ancients and no doubt ravaged the herds and flocks of old. The Bible—Exodus 9:3 says "Behold the hand of the Lord is upon the cattle—there shall be a very grievous murrain." (Murrain is an ancient word for an infectious disease of cattle.)

Virgil, an ancient Roman writer on agriculture, tells us: "A grievous epidemic fell, every tribe of cattle and wild thing was given to death—the ox groaning out his life while bloody foam falls from out his mouth—medicine men give up the fight—until men learn to bury them (the cattle) in pits and earth them over."

Since the 17th Century the foot and mouth disease has ravaged all European countries including Britain. Epidemics have occurred from time to time in Mexico, the United States, Australia and Asia. The disease begins suddenly and spreads very rapidly. Animals suffer and do not put on weight. The flow of milk greatly decreases. Quick isolation and the slaughtering of animals, the burning of bedding and the disinfection of barns, pens and indeed of the whole farm, has so far been the only remedy.

Support Growing For Floor Prices

Recently mass meetings of farmers have been held under the auspices of the Farmers' Union of Alberta at a large number of Alberta points. These meetings have been held to discuss the livestock marketing crisis arising from the inter-provincial embargoes, and other farm problems. At all of these meetings, resolutions have been passed urging immediate action by the Federal authorities to implement floor prices of $28.50 on top steers and $25.00 on fat lambs, basis Alberta points. Also that the Federal Government act at once to end the present illegal and indefensible inter-provincial embargoes.

Another resolution passed, calls for the establishment of the floor price of $25.00 on hogs to be made uniform across Canada.

Other points discussed have been the renewal of the International Wheat Agreement and the Domestic price of Wheat. On the IWA there is general agreement that if it is to be extended, a much higher floor and ceiling price must be insisted upon with provision for revision from year to year. On the domestic price of wheat in Canada, there is general insistence that this shall be completely separated from the export price, and based upon costs of production within Canada.

These demands were pressed upon the Federal Government by a delegation from the three Western Farm Unions which interviewed Hon. C. D. Howe, Hon. Mr. Gardiner and several other ministers, at Ottawa.

When in the city shop around the corner and save.
